Rob, I have competing meetings all afternoon and wasn't going to be on the call. It looks like we will have plenty of DEQ participation though. Thanks, Mike

I see value in having a quick call this afternoon, if folks are still available. I'd like to discuss our overall messaging to ensure that we're on the same page prior to the meetings that are scheduled with Virginia and Susan.

Please confirm if you'd still be able to join a 15-20 min phone call this afternoon and I'll send out call in information.

Thanks,
Rob

I don't think we need to regroup tomorrow afternoon now. The quick meeting invite was to touch base on where we are at...I think we know now. I still think it is a good idea to meet prior to the public meeting on Thursday for those of us that are going. Can we tentatively target a time, just to make sure we are understand the order etc.? - Jenny

Thank you Denise! Do we still plan on a group check in tomorrow at 3:30 pm?

All:

At approximately 11:00 a.m. today, Bill Kirley heard from Andrew Otis (CFAC's legal counsel) that CFAC would not be able to agree to the terms DEQ required in its AOC. Andrew indicated that CFAC would be issuing a press release this afternoon. CFAC did not share the content of its press release. DEQ left voice-mail messages with Victor, Rob, and Mark. If any response is necessary to the CFAC press release, I believe the public meeting on Thursday will provide a good forum, and the agencies have joint talking points to assist. Please let me know if you have questions. Thanks!

FYI - Virginia Sloan with Sen Tester's office has been told that Glencore will be issuing a press release today. This is the first I've heard of this. She's not (and I'm not) sure of the content. Have you guys heard anything about this?

Thanks,

Rob

We had a call from Haley Beaudry, former public affairs for Glencore and CFAC. He said he will be issuing a press release today on behalf of Glencore. . He is not sure of the content, Wondering if you know anything about what they might be up to!

Thanks and see you on Thursday.
